Now we are free sheet music

If you are small at home, coming up with activities to keep them busy can sometimes be tricky. There are several games though that your kids can play with each other and you can join in the fun too! One such game is singing action songs. Singing is not only a fun activity for your children, but also a great way to create a solid foundation for both motor skills and communication skills. Fine motor skills have the ability to control small muscles in your body, including fingers, toes, tongue, and lips. Singing allows toddlers to use muscles in and around their mouths. Singing also helps to develop speech and communication skills. Children's songs usually have rhyming words that expose children to silent skills and sound awareness. According to Scholastic, it allows them to talk, pronounce and learn how to read more easily. In addition, singing with parents should promote mutual communication at a young age. Songs that include action and movement also help toddlers with rhythm, spatial awareness, balance and coordination. Here are 3 popular children's songs that you can introduce to your child. These songs also include simple dance moves that go with lyrics that get their little ones moving around. Lyrics (excerpt) Are your ears hanging low? (Tug at earlobes) Are they shaking and freezing? (Place your hands near your ears and wave back and forth) Can you tie them in? (Pretend to tie the knot) Can you tie them to the bow? (Pretend to tie the bow) Can you throw them over your shoulder (Pretend you throw something over your shoulder)As a continental soldier (Salute)Do your ears hang low? (Tug at earlobes) Yes, my ears hang low Yes, they twist and freeze to tie them in knots, they can tie them, they can throw them over their shoulders like a continental soldier Yes, my ears hang low! Music Sheet by G. DeBenedetti Lyrics Eensey weensey spider went up waterspout (Right thumb left pinkie, then left thumb right pinkie and so on)Down came rain and washed the spider out (Keep your hands up high then wiggle fingers as your hands move down)Out came the sun and dried all the rain (Keep your hands high and form around)And the tight weensey spider went up the spout again. (Repeat the procedure for the first line) Lyrics and Midi Sample, see also Music Sheet Lyrics (excerpt) by Roland Lawrence Put your right foot on your right leg, put your right foot out on your right foot and you shake it all about You do Hokey-PokeyAnd you turn yourself around That's about what it's about! Next do: left foot, right hand, left hand, etc. LSee Music Sheet (Vendor's Site) Do you know what to do with the old pages? You can donate or trash litter, or you could recycle this used fabric and turn it into something new. If you have few ideas, we have come up with a number of clever uses of old pages that could improve your life. For example, these projects can help you dispose of waste from being at home or help you become a more efficient gardener. It is worth noting that you don't have to have a set of hashed leaves to take part in. Do you stock too many pages in general? Many home organization experts recommend keeping no more than two sets of sheets per bed. If you have more than this suggestion, consider cleaning out your bedding closet and solving one of these DIY projects. Paper towels are becoming a thing of the past as more people work to reduce waste in their homes. If you have a set of old bedding, consider cutting them down into some reusable cleaning towels. Cotton sheets make perfect dusters and can even be used to polish stainless steel appliances. Just grab a pair of sharp scissors and cut the sheets even into rectangles. Mollie Johanson Sheet fabric may not be a durable enough purse, but they are ideal for fabric bags. Drawstring bags can have many uses. They allow you to organize your travel basics, wrap gifts or keep your wallet organized. This drawstring bag tutorial will show you how to craft a simple bag. Thick, opaque leaves can also work as a stuffy barrier in your garden. Make sure the leaves are not thin or transparent. Darker colors work best. If you have plenty of open space in your garden bed, set out sections of your old sheet before topping it out with a few inches of fresh mulch. If you have lighter cotton sheets, you can use them in your garden in winter to protect against brittle mats. Mollie Johanson Has a variety of accessories that could be made with old leaves. Pretty much anything that can be done using cotton should be considered. This two-sided belt project may not use up a lot of your old leaves, but if it goes well, make some belts for the whole family. Sleek, wrinkleless white sheets make great curtains in the farmhouse. In fact, it may be cheaper to buy a set of cheap twin bed sheets and turn them into curtains than to buy custom window shades. Save up if you have odd-sized windows and need custom width or length. capecodphoto/Getty Images Think about making a braided carpet using old bedding. This DIY project may take some patience to create, but the end result will help you use up old leaves and other scrap fabric that takes up space in your craft room. Old leaves can be made a tow-of-war dog toy. The thicker you can make this dog toy, the more durable the valet is. To complete this project, cut the old pages into several long, thin strips. We recommend keeping the strip about two inches thick and three feet long. Take all the strips and then tie a large knot at the end. Separate the strips into three parts and continue to collide the sections. Finally, knotty bottom. Mollie Johanson Plastic Bags are terrible for the environment, so many localities have enforced plastic bag bans in stores. Even if you can still use plastic bags, it may be worth your time to change your sheets grocery bags instead. Try this sturdy grocery pattern using a pair of patterned or solid leaves. This old page idea is similar to a bag or produce bag, but the function is different. The leaves make a large fabric to create a boho-inspired yoga mat bag. This article has a variety of yoga mat bag patterns to choose from. Farmhouse Boone Lisa from Farmhouse Boone has a very clever idea to reuse old leaves. She changed some old, patterned bedding pajamas to her daughters. Head over to his girl's pajama tutorial to find out how to make your own set. Bed sheets make the perfect art gowns as long as the fabric is thick enough that art supplies don't easily ooze through. You can find an example of an online sewn, or you can just cut a hole in the middle of the sheet and put the page over your head. Cutting a hole is a quick way to protect your clothes when you take a project to fly. Sheet music is the format in which the songs are written. The notes begin with a blank music staff paper consisting of graphs with five lines and four spaces, each representing a note. Songwriters who create songs in standard musical markings use staff paper to create page music, which can then be passed on to musicians who interpret notes for musical performance. Today, making your notes is easier than ever. With characters from software like Finale or a free web-based Noteflight service, anyone can change their musical ideas to professional music pages. Use the comments to get started (see Resources). Noteflight is a free web-based music music service that allows you to write, print and even record your music files for playback. Noteflight is a clean, easy to use interface that allows even a beginner to create song notes. Since Noteflight allows you to listen to what you've written, you can experiment with different notes until you create something that sounds good, even if you don't know the composition of the music. Create a Noteflight account and sign in to start creating your own notes. You can start writing your song right away. To create a blank nod document, click New Score on the toolbar at the top of the page. Choose whether you want the notes to be private or shared. Noteflight presents you with an empty music page in the C key with 4/4 time signature. Click on Edit Title at the top of your sheet music and type the name of your song, then click Edit Composer and write your name. Make any changes you want to your key signature or time signature on the Score menu by using change time signature or Change key signature. You can add notes and rest by clicking on the empty music staff. A note head appears that you can drag and click where you want the note to appear. You can also use a floating palette to choose different notes durations. When you enter notes, Noteflight automatically displays keep your notes to keep the correct number of strokes per bar. To listen to what you have written at any time, play the menu and select the playback option you want. When you're done writing a song, print the notes. The result is a professional score for your song composition. You can also use Noteflight to make an audio file with your own composition. Noteflight allows you to set actual instrument sounds to the corresponding parts. Select File and select Export to save the finished notes as MP3 or wav. This allows you to take an example of recording your band. Band.
